

About Me

Hello, RDshooters here...

I created this red dot website to help beginning shooters get PRACTICAL information about the best red dot sights out there and HOW TO use them.

Years ago, when I first got into shooting, I was like YOU and really knew next to nothing about these optics, but over the years I've DISCOVERED why it is truly one of the most HARD HITTING sighting systems that you can put on any firearm.

I hope to share with you why these optics are so VERSATILE, and how they can really SIMPLIFY shooting for you.

I also want to HELP GUIDE YOU when you decide to make the purchase of your first red dot because...

...there are a lot of brands out there. And the truth is that some of them are simply SENSATIONAL, but others will break down on you after shooting with them for the first time.

I want YOU to start with a PROVEN optic that will meet your needs. And I hope to help you become a better shooter as well.

Now if you're a new shooter and you're looking to buy a red dot...

...then I highly recommend you check out the Holosun HS503c. I think it is the best red dot sight for the money, and if you're interested, read my full review by clicking the link below:
